CARE OF CUT FLOWERS

FLOWERS ARE ALIVE

Cut flowers wither because of rapid evaporation of moisture in them. Evaporation is slower in a cool place. Moisture must be supplied.

First Steps—On receiving flowers, break off daily a bit of soft stemmed flowers, split the hard stemmed a little, then place them in cold fresh water.

In Day Time—Place flowers in coolest part of room. Keep air fresh.

At Night—Immerse stems (not blossoms) as deeply as possible in cool water and keep in cool place, preferably 40 degrees temperature.

Avoid Draft—Never place flowers in draft; it evaporates the moisture too rapidly.

CARE OF CORSAGE

As with other cut flowers, evaporation of moisture must be reduced and moisture supplied.

On Receiving—Keep flowers in a box, wrapped and tightly covered, in a cool place, until worn.

After Wearing—To revive corsage, remove ribbon and protector, lay flowers in pan of water, backs downward, covered with paper, until refreshed; then replace in box, tightly wrapped in wax paper, box covered; keep in ice chamber of refrigerator, or other cool place. If flowers are frost-bitten, sprinkle with ice cold water, and put away as directed above until worn.

CARE OF PLANTS

All blooming plants should be watered at least once, and perhaps twice daily, and their period of blooming will be increased if kept in a cool room with plenty of light. The leaves of any plant should be kept free from dust.
